

K-LOVE serves me by providing uplifting and entertaining music and information. Very few radio stations offer anything I care to listen to anymore but because of stations like KLOVE I still choose radio over television most of the time. Many others feel the same way I do. Parents don't have to worry when their radio is tuned to a KLOVE station because there will never be anything inappropriate for their children to hear. KLOVE's uplifting message would be sorely missed by all. The majority of Americans still have very high moral standards but more and more the FCC is listening to the militant minority. Your decisions are forcing the majority to give up rights (public airways) that we deserve. Why is that? Who do you serve - special interests or the people? Please make the right decision this time and do not expand the LPFM service to push KLOVE out of the market. Thank you for the opportunity to express my opinions.
